Looking back on 2016...

At A Woman's Place, we believe that every individual has a right to be great and no one should tell them differently or hold them back from being great through power and control. This practice is evidenced by the impressive work of our advocates and staff, who once again provided services to an increased number of victims during 2016.

As the county grows, so does our need for safe services to those who decide to break the bounds of power and control. Advocates work tirelessly, 24 hours a day, to provide crisis intervention, education and support through our numerous services to the community in Weld County. We see success in the countless victims who respond to our surveys with kind words. While many are thankful for the warm bed and home like environment, the words we receive reflect a deeper meaning. For they reflect the caring voice of an advocate who answers the crisis line at 12am, they reflect the warm smile that answers the door when a victim and their children are scared to leave their home and scared to stay. It is our connection as people that impact lives and help individuals find change through safety and self-sufficiency. At A Woman's Place, our advocates are the true core of our services. Please take the time to get to know them and, if inclined, provide a thank you for those who are dedicated to help victims in trauma.

Lastly, thank you. As a community, you are the ones who show up with flowers to brighten our days, you cook food for those in shelter on holidays, you hold supply drives, and you remember A Woman's Place during Colorado Gives Day and United Way campaigns. Your support allows us to continue the work we do to help victims turn into, not just great, but FABULOUS, survivors! Thank you for allowing us to continue our work in 2017 where, every minute of every day, a caring voice will be at the phone and warm smile will answer the door.

With gratitude,

Karol Patch

Thank you to everyone

that has contributed and supported

A Woman's Place throughout the year in so many ways!

How your gifts provide help for tomorrow

"I am so grateful for the support that I'm getting. This is the first and only time I've had any healthy support to encourage and gain my independence for myself as a woman and as a mother. The cycle of abuse is stopping with me."

-AWP residential client

"I am grateful and humble to be safe and not hurt." -AWP Client

"I was nervous to come and my first day she sat RIGHT next to me and made me feel safe and I learned how to not let fear defeat me."

-Survivor seeking a permanent protection order

"I am so appreciative of the service. The knowledge it provides along with answered questions will give me the confidence to move forward with a decision that will allow me to move on with my life in a positive manner. I just felt stuck and unsure. I am so thankful for this program!!"

-Victim who received counseling with AWP
